Hey Jason,

We are going to visit Brian's granddad tomorrow. He is being moved to a rehab facility. He has less than a year to live. His wife was rushed to another hospital a couple days ago with a brain clot and had a stroke. She is being moved to hospice today, and has one day to a week to live. So both my dad and my stepmom are in bad shape.

Thanks for letting Brian go visit his granddad anytime. I just felt like I should let you know when we go to North Carolina to visit him.

Best Regards,
Roberta Hill

Absolutely. You may go visit him anytime. Hopefully he recovers very soon and comes home.

CAUTION - EXTERNAL:

Hey Jason,

Brian's granddad is in the Alamance Hospital in Burlington, NC. Would it be okay if Brian visits him tomorrow? This will just be a day trip.

Thanks,
Roberta Hill

Roberta- contempt is a relatively minor offense, although I hope it serves as a wake up for him to calm down. Exercising your right to appeal is one thing and I encourage it, but you can't get out of control. I have to report it to our court per policy but it's highly unlikely Brian will have to come up here. I didn't have a chance to make it down this week but will be down next. Call me after court today. Thanks.

CAUTION - EXTERNAL:

Hey Jason,

We just talked to Brian's lawyer. He is going to use autism as a defense with "no adjudication of a conviction" (Brian's words), but he says that Brian will probably get 6 months state probation. I need to know if Brian is going to be charged with a probation violation by the Federal Probation Office?

Thanks,
Roberta Hill

Hi Roberta! I'll get in contact with Mr. Daniels. I have not heard from him, unless I have just missed his call. I have court today that will keep me occupied, but let me see what I can do. Hope you and Brian are doing well.

Jason

Hey Jason,

Brian asked me to send you this letter. It is attached. He needs for you to call his counselor, Hank Daniels at (276) 732-4383. I've texted him several times about scheduling his evaluation appointment, but he needs to talk to you first. I texted him your number, but I haven't heard anything back from him. Did he call you?

Thanks,

Roberta Hill

body-camera footage illegally destroyed in supervised release violation case

Jason,

Brian wanted for me to send you one letter and some evidence he has collected. He is sending a letter, and a letter from Kendall with a response from the police chief admitting body-camera footage was deleted after not being marked as evidence. Brian wanted for me to send you his proof that multiple court orders asked for this footage but was ignored, and the evidence was deleted before his supervised release violation hearing in May of 2019. The evidence was deleted after Brian's appeal to the circuit court and was never presented in the general district court, which is where my son was found guilty. The U.S. attorney may not have been aware of the body-camera footage, and they could have obtained it as evidence. Brian thinks it could be an obstruction of justice to destroy material evidence after the police were made aware of my son being on federal probation. The police department had never given you the body-camera footage after Brian was arrested in 2018, and that was because it was not marked as evidence to be routinely deleted.

Best Regards,
Roberta Hill

Roberta- that's quite a turn of events. Tell Brian I've received everything and I'll come down and see you guys next week. Looks like the hearing is only to get an attorney on the 3rd. We will talk. Tell Brian not to stress too much. Appreciate you guys keeping me in the loop.

Jason
